

Innovationsschub für Studierende: Forbes-Preisträger besuchen UC-Hub!

Forbes Under 30 listers coach UC-Studenten im Innovationszentrum 1819, um Unternehmergeist und globale Reputation zu stärken.

Forbes Under 30 listers experienced an exciting tour at UC's 1819 Innovation Hub, a vibrant space buzzing with startup energy and collaboration with major corporate players like Kroger, Fifth Third Bank, and Procter & Gamble. This quick networking session not only showcased the innovative spirit of UC but also highlighted its role as a key incubator for launching dynamic business ideas.

The visit aimed to elevate UC's status on the global stage as a hub for research and innovation while enhancing support for students aiming to venture into entrepreneurship. This initiative aligns with UC's forward-thinking innovation agenda and reinforces its commitment to shaping the future of business and technology. Such events are pivotal in demonstrating that "Next Lives Here" is not just a slogan at UC but a reality in action.
