

JetBlue-Flug: Stolze Vincentianer feiern neue Verbindung zur Heimat!

JetBlue startet am 9. Oktober seinen ersten Flug nach St. Vincent, unterstützt von einer talentierten Crew mit starken vinzentinischen Wurzeln.

JetBlue is set to launch its inaugural flight from New York to St. Vincent and the Grenadines on October 9, marking a significant moment in the nation's travel industry. This historic flight will feature several prominent Vincentians among the crew, including lead flight attendant Stephanie Austin, whose father is well-known Vincentian business icon Gideon "Fessy" York. Joining her are Nigel Hewitt and Ronald Porter Jr. from JetBlue's IT team, both of whom have strong Vincentian roots that underscore the connection between the diaspora and their homeland.

The Government of St. Vincent and the Grenadines is enthusiastic about the new service, which aims to enhance tourism and strengthen ties with the Vincentian community abroad. Tourism Minister Carlos James highlighted the importance of the flight, noting that it symbolizes the unity of Vincentians at home and abroad. The event is not just about travel; it represents a deeper cultural connection and pride among Vincentians, as they embrace this new chapter in their country's connectivity.
